With pent-up feelings and pent-up purse

But the Landlord’s wife
Could not understand,
When her husband cut out
Her weekly stipend.
“You see, dear, it’s this way—the

And all of us more or less slightly mixed”
Because it isn’t

And then at the Bridge—

Will Imel and Miss Jennings of Dodge City were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Roberts on Sunday. Miss Jennings is a sister of Mrs. Roberts.

Fred Barnes was called to Hobart, Oklahoma, last week on account of the serious illness of his sister. She died before he had time to reach her.

The Easter exercises of the Congregational Sunday school were interesting and impressive to the congregation. Thirty children were in the processional and their bright happy faces were in keeping with the day which was one of brightness and beauty. The songs, solos and duets were full of sweetness and meaning. All recitations and exercises emphasized some part of the Easter message. The church was prettily decorated with festoons of paper garlands in the Easter color of purple and white and some pretty potted plants.

BUCKLIN BREEZES.

Mrs. L. W. Handy is spending a few days visiting the families of her sons, Dwight and Wesley, in Pratt.

M. W. Marley has sold his residence and his main street property to A. T. Gallemore of Lewis, Kansas.

C. E. Smith is the proudest man in this town at this time; it is a boy and was born Friday night, April 17th; the mother and baby boy are doing well at this writing.

A party of young folks of Coldwater, Kansas, consisting of Mrs. Dr. Holcomb, Miss Curran, Miss Burt and sister and Chas. and Wm. Avery spent Easter in Bucklin. Monday morning the two Miss Burts left for Rocky Ford, Colo., the others returned to Coldwater.

The weather clerk has listened unto our plea, granted our request for a little rain. Last Thursday night there was a regular downpour for quite a while, then some more of the same kind Friday morning. W. J. McColm says that he measured the amount of water that fell during these two showers and that it measured three and one half inches. Again on Monday we had some more of the same kind but not so much. This is the kind of weather that makes the farmer feel good just about this time of the year.

Last Sunday evening, just at the that the people were gathering for the evening services at the various churches, a party from out of town appeared on the streets riding what appeared to be an unbroken broncho which he could not manage very well. The pony ran into a buggy belonging to J. W. Emmons that was standing at a hitch rack near the M. E. church, wrecked the buggy and then came near running into a crowd of small children that had not yet entered the church. Fortunately no one was hurt, but it seems to us that the streets of a town is not the proper place to break horses, especially on Sunday at the hours of public worship. We hope that this will not occur again. If it does, we will see if there is not some way to put a stop to it.

Rev. Roy Allison, the Presbyterian minister at this place, has bought the Henry Glaser residence in Bucklin and will move here from Meade where has been living for the past year or two. Mr. Glaser will move to Pratt.

The Farmer's Elevator Association did not complete its organization at its meeting last Saturday, but adjourned to meet again on Tuesday, April 28th, at which time they hope to complete it. We think that the Farmer's minds were so elevated by the late rains that they could not get them down to work on a grain elevator at their last meeting. The great trouble with organizations of this kind is that the people who are expected to become members, as a rule, are not very familiar with the business, and yet about every one of them thinks that he knows about all there is to be known about how it should be conducted, that his way is the only correct way to make it successful and if it is not run according to his ideas, it will be a failure and he will have nothing to do with it. This is not right. All should make some concessions so that they may work in harmony and success will crown their efforts, otherwise failure is almost inevitable.

The Methodist congregation of Bucklin have everything ready for putting down cement walks at their church. They are only waiting for it to quit raining for a few days and the work will begin. There is plenty of room here for a lot more cement walks and we realize the need of them when it rains.

That combination show that was given last week by a combination of home talent and a traveling outfit for the benefit of the ball team, don't seem to have panned out very well. I guess there was only enough money taken in to get the traveling contingent out of town, or they didn't have time to make the proper division, at any rate they say that the ball team did not get anything out of it. Moral: Make all home talent next time.

Getting Hot in the Collar

When a careless waiter spills a bowl of hot soup down a fellow's neck, he can't help getting "hot in the collar." But when he buys a bill of lumber, and then finds out afterward that he paid too much, or that the stuff was green and is warping all out of shape—well, he has no kick coming. It's his own fault.

Let us tell you again, that if you want thoroughly dry, well seasoned lumber, and want to be sure you get that kind, buy from us. We have the choicest assortment of lumber in this section and our prices are as low as you can get anywhere.
